Two Attacks Threaten Peace Pact

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP) — The India-Pakistan truce was threatened as Pakistan Sunday night charged Indian forces with two major attacks. The Pakistanis claimed the attackers were repulsed.

U.N. Secretary - General U Thant informed the Security Council the cease-fire is "not holding" and said both sides were stalling on troop withdrawals.

The Pakistani government said Indian troops attacked Saturday night with tanks and artillery on the Fazilka front, near Lahore, but were driven back after 90 Indians were killed and 73 captured.

India announced that 71 men were missing after the fighting at Fazilka and details of other casualties were awaited. The Defense Ministry charged that the Pakistanis encroached on Indian territory and attacked without warning when an Indian company was sent to ask "the intruders to vacate the intrusion."

India charged that more than 1,000 Pakistani troops moved across the Sutlej River into Indian territory in the Fazilka area. "If they do not get out, there is going to be a fight," a spokesman for the Indian Defense Ministry said.

Later, the Pakistani government radio said Indian troops seized two posts in Rajasthan, near the Arabian Sea, but were forced back by a Pakistani counterattack.

In letters to Thant during the weekend, India charged that the Pakistanis attacked first on the two fronts, as well as near Gandra in the disputed Himalayan state of Kashmir. Pakistan protested the alleged Indian intrusions to Thant.

Thant said in a two-page report to the Security Council that the deterioration in the Lahore area began Friday night when Indian troops opened fire with artillery, tanks, recoilless rifles and small arms near a small canal separating the two sides southwest of the city.

Denies Delay In Trial Of Two In Dixie

HAYNEVILLE, Ala. (AP) — Circuit Judge T. Werth Thagard refused today to postpone trials of either of two white men accused of killing civil rights workers in rural Lowndes County.

Thagard's decision left it up to a three-judge federal court in Montgomery to say whether the charges against Thomas L. Coleman, a special part-time deputy sheriff, and Collier Leroy Wilkins Jr., a young Ku Klux Klansman, will be tried at Hayneville this week.

The federal court was scheduled to hear later today a motion which would prohibit any jury trial in Lowndes County pending disposition of a federal court suit seeking to get more Negroes on the jury rolls in the county.

That motion was filed by the American Civil Liberties Union. Coleman, 55, is under indictment on a manslaughter charge for the shotgun slaying of Jonathan Daniels, 27, a civil rights volunteer and Episcopal seminary student from Keen, N.H.

Wilkins, 21, a Fairfield, Ala., mechanic, is charged with murder in the killing of a white Detroit housewife, Mrs. Viola Liuzzo.

Unless the federal court intervenes, Coleman will go to trial Tuesday in the century-old courthouse at Hayneville. Wilkins' second trial — a jury which tried him last May was unable to agree on a verdict — is on the docket for Wednesday. Whether that case will be heard this week would depend on how long the Coleman case lasted.

At Fortuna, Versailles

Two Men Killed In Area Shootings

Two men were dead on arrival at Bothwell Hospital shortly before midnight Saturday from gunshot wounds received earlier, at two different locations, one at Fortuna in Moniteau County, and the other six miles north of Versailles in Morgan County.

The death of one man followed an argument with a filling station operator, while the second was a result of an "unloaded" pistol being used to demonstrate "quick draw."

According to information received through the Missouri State Highway Patrol in Jefferson City, the first mishap occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Shoemaker, six miles north of Versailles. The accidental shooting took place about 10:45 o'clock while Shoemaker and a friend Lloyd Thomas Turpin, 43, were demonstrating "quick draw" with pistols. Sheriff J. T. Hull, Morgan County, gave the Patrol the report on the incident at the Shoemaker home. It was reported the Shoemakers, Mr. and Mrs. Turpin and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Nichols had been visiting at the home. The discussion over quick drawing came about and Turpin borrowed a pistol belonging to Nichols, while Shoemaker had his .22 caliber pistol.

Mayor Attends Conference On Urban Renewal

Mayor L. L. Studer was among municipal mayors present Friday for the third annual governor's conference for mayors in Jefferson City and Studer noted in particular discussion pertaining to urban renewal, a proposed program in its preliminary stages here.

Studer was accompanied to Jefferson City by his wife and she attended an afternoon tea for wives of the mayors hosted by Mrs. Warren E. Hearnes, wife of Missouri's governor. Speaking at the mayors conference in regard to urban renewal was L. A. Daugherty, executive director of the Housing Authority in Kansas City, who told the group that federal funds pay approximately 75 per cent of the costs of an urban renewal program — leaving some 25 per cent for the municipality to bear. Daugherty outlined the cost factor of the program on inquiry from Mayor Studer.

Sedalia's urban renewal effort is just getting off the ground with the recent appointment by the mayor and council of a 30-member citizens committee which will prepare a workable program in preparation for submission of the urban renewal proposition to voters as required by law.

The mayors conference was held at the Ramada Inn in the capital city and was open to mayors of cities having over 5,000 population.

Four Day Storm Rocks Tropical Isle

GUADALAJARA, Mexico (AP) — A 4-day tropical storm has lashed the Pacific Coast port of Mazatlan and most of western Sinaloa, causing still unknown damages and casualties.

The area was isolated and communications were down today. The storm hit late Saturday night and raged until early Sunday.

Officials classified the storm as a cyclone and called it Hazel, the eighth tropical storm in the Pacific area this year. Reports reaching Guadalajara said thousands are homeless, property damage high, and at least two persons are known to have drowned.

Truck Is Still Submerged In Grand River

Plans to salvage the tractor-trailer unit that carried three persons to their deaths when it crashed through a swinging bridge over the Grand River northwest of Warsaw Sept. 20 are under way but it will be some time before the operation can be completed.

A spokesman for the West Texas Metal Co., Odessa, Tex., owner of the unit, visited the scene shortly after the accident and said the firm would raise the unit, containing some $10,000 worth of valuable metal, as soon as equipment large enough to move the load can be procured. At this time the river is still high enough to prevent the salvage operation.

The tractor and trailer are upright in several feet of mud, according to the Highway Patrol diving team that made the recovery of the three bodies from the wreck Monday afternoon and Tuesday morning. Killed were Lannie Walker, his wife and four-year-old son, all of Odessa.

Highway Department representatives have been on the scene almost daily since the accident, and have promised residents of the Highway 7 area that the bridge will be repaired as soon as possible. Preliminary work on the restoration of the bridge has been completed.

$34,022 Quarterly Franchise Payment By Utilities Firm

Missouri Public Service Company today made its third quarterly electric and gas franchise payment for 1965 to the City of Sedalia for the use of streets and alleys.

Harry Kull, district manager, gave the city clerk a check in the amount of $34,022.75, which is one-fourth of the franchise payment based on the company's sales of electricity and gas to consumers in Sedalia during the year 1964. One additional payment will be made at the end of the year.

The franchise payments are in addition to real estate, personal property and other taxes paid to Pettis County including the City of Sedalia.

Man, 37, Dies After Being Shot In Leg

Thomas Griffin, 37, of 403 North Washington, wounded in a ruckus in the 400 block on North Moniteau about 3:35 p.m. Sunday, died at Bothwell Hospital about 10:40 Sunday night from a cardiac arrest.

Death came just before the start of an operation which was to have been performed to tie off a cut artery damaged by the bullet fired into his left leg.

John Taylor, 32, 508 North Washington, suffered several cuts and was also reported to have participated in the fight. Police reported witnesses told them that bricks, rocks, knives and a gun were used in the ruckus during which time a man who was identified to police as Maurice Smith had fired the gun. Police were unable to locate the gun.

Officers at first were unable to locate Smith, but this morning he telephoned Sgt. Perry Franklin and surrendered himself. Police gave his full name as Maurice C. Smith, 30, 1520 Cedar, Louisville, Ky., and said he manages a club at Waynesville, Mo.

Smith was questioned by police, Sheriff Emmett Fairfax and Prosecuting Attorney J. R. Fritz this morning and at Democrat press-time he was still being held by city police and no charges had been filed.

A coroner's inquest has been ordered by Dr. C. Gordon Stauffer for 7:30 tonight in the Circuit Courtroom.

Sgt. Charles Stuart, who investigated the accident, reported he was told by witnesses that Griffin was believed to have had a knife and cut Taylor under his left arm and inflicted several "nicks" in the back of his head and neck, none of which were of a serious nature. Ewing's ambulance rushed Griffin to the hospital while Taylor was taken to the hospital in the McLaughlin ambulance. Dr. A. R. Maddox treated Griffin while Dr. A. J. Campbell treated Taylor who was later released from the hospital.

Sunday night when bleeding continued in Griffin's wound, it was decided to operate and repair the damaged artery. He had been shot in the upper part of the back of the left leg and the bullet ranged through the leg and lodged under the skin in the front part of the leg. He had been given an anesthetic and prepared for the operation to be done by Dr. Robert Glass and Dr. Maddox when he died. The doctors reported death was not from the gunshot wound but from a cardiac arrest.

Griffin's body was removed to the Allen and Son Funeral Home.

A further investigation of the incident is being conducted by the police and sheriff's departments.

Trial Date Is Set

Trial for a young California, Mo. man charged here with rape was set for Nov. 16 and 17 at Boonville today as the trial docket for the upcoming term of Cooper County Circuit Court was set.

John W. Sears, 21, will be tried in Boonville as he requested and was granted a change of venue to Cooper County in Circuit Court here earlier this month. Sears is being held in the Saline County jail at Marshall without bond.

He is charged with the rape of a rural Sedalia woman north of town early in February.

33rd Strike Against Cong By Big B-52s

No Results Given On Strike Near Tay Ninh Capital

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. B52 bombers made their 33d strike of the Viet Nam war today, blasting a Viet Cong area 55 miles northwest of Saigon near the Cambodian border.

A U.S. spokesman said the eight-engine jet bombers from Guam struck 15 miles northeast of the provincial capital of Tay Ninh, in an area where U.S. intelligence reports have said a Viet Cong headquarters is located.

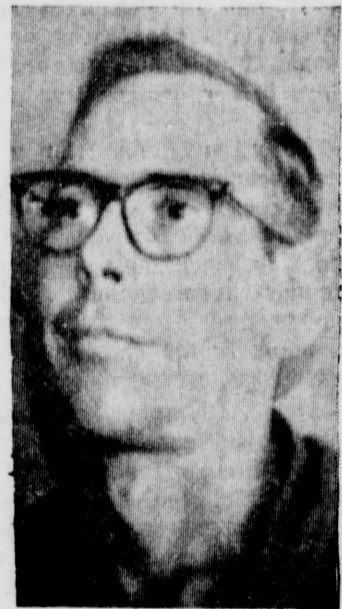

Results of the strike were not announced.

The South Vietnamese troops claimed 48 Viet Cong were killed in an unsuccessful attempt to overrun an outpost southwest of Quang Ngai Sunday. The South Vietnamese said two Viet Cong companies inflicted moderately heavy casualties on the defenders until air attacks drove them off.

A U.S. military spokesman announced that the planes which bombed the Ben Hai bridge in the demilitarized zone between North and South Viet Nam were American.

Two U.S. Navy planes bombed the bridge's north approach on Sept. 16 and three Air Force planes hit the south end the next day. The spokesman said the bombing resulted from navigational error due to bad weather and "similarity of terrain situated in North Viet Nam."

About 20 Vietnamese were killed, several more wounded and there was considerable property damage. Under the Geneva agreement of 1954 dividing North and South Viet Nam, military activity is prohibited in the zone. The bridge spans the Ben Hai River.

Slain Captain Had Plans To Become Priest

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — A captain reported executed by the Viet Cong had just a few days left in View Nam before his capture—and he wanted to become a priest, his family said today.

Capt. Humbert R. Versace, 28, a devout Catholic and a 1959 graduate of West Point, had written his family of his intentions, according to his parents, Col. and Mrs. Humbert J. Versace.

"It was something he had been thinking about for some time," said his mother. "He loved the Vietnamese people very much. He wanted to return and help them."

In August, 1963, at Ft. Meade, Md., Versace's father pinned the Army's combat infantryman badge on his son for earlier front-line duty. But Capt. Versace returned to combat duty. He was captured two months later along with other American soldiers when guerrillas overran their special forces camp at Tan Phu deep near the southern tip of Viet Nam.

Versace, whose father retired from the Army two years ago, was born in Scofield Barracks in Hawaii.

"He was a real Army brat—he's lived all over the world," said his mother.

'It Girl,' Clara Bow, Dead

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Clara Bow, legendary "It" girl of silent movie fame, died early today in her secluded home in suburban Culver City. She was 60.

Relatives in Nevada said Miss Bow died of an apparent heart attack, but added they were not certain of the cause of death.

Miss Bow's body was taken to Forest Lawn Memorial Park under the name of Clara Beldan.

Miss Bow, flaming-haired star of early-day movies, had lived in virtual seclusion in the Los Angeles area since her separation from her late husband, cowboy actor Rex Bell, more than a decade ago.

In her later years, she was described by her son as an incurable insomniac, who painted and read incessantly, but rarely went out. She was plagued by ill health.

To a generation of moviegoers in the 1930s, Miss Bow was the incandescent symbol of the flapper, of emancipated woman, of "It"—sex appeal—as typified in the popular novels of Elinor Glyn, who first described "It."

Miss Bow's career was less active after her marriage to Bell. Their first son, Rex Jr., was born Dec. 17, 1934. Bell and Miss Bow battled over his name, Miss Bow holding out for Bow Beldan. Beldan was Bell's real name. Bell insisted on Tex Bow Beldan. He won.

Their second son, George, was born June 15, 1938.

Miss Bow and Bell separated in the early 1950s but never divorced. He later began a successful career in politics, and at the time of his death in July, 1962 was lieutenant governor of Nevada.

FORMER ACTRESS DIES — Clara Bow, the "it girl" of the silent screen died early today while watching a late television movie at a rest home where she maintained an apartment. She had been in failing health for several years and death was attributed to natural causes. She was 60 years old. Miss Bow is shown during her days as a film star in the top picture, which was taken in 1931, and as she came out of seclusion in 1962, bottom picture, to attend the funeral of her husband, Nevada Lt. Gov. Rex Bell.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a 16-year-old girl who could pass for 19 physically and mentally. I am in love with a boy who is 17 and if you tell me a 16-year-old doesn't know what love is I will never buy your paper again as long as I live.

The trouble is Steve's mother. She hates me like poison. I telephoned Steve last night and I must have got the old bag out of the bathtub because she was in a rotten mood. She called me a cheap, pushy little nothing and ordered me to leave her son alone. I told her I was going to marry Steve, over her dead body if necessary, and then I hung up.

When I told Steve about the conversation he was mad at me not her. He said I was making trouble for him and maybe we had better stop seeing each other.

I hate Steve's mother but I'm afraid if I don't make friends with her it will be the end of Steve and me. What should I do?—SCARLET O'HARA.

Dear Scarlet: A 16-year-old girl who tells the mother of a 17-year-old boy that she's going to marry him over her dead body is not apt to endear herself—especially if she hauls the woman out of the bathtub to deliver the message. You sound like bad news to me, Toots. You need to learn restraint and respect. You also need a fresh start with a new boy and a different mother.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband has a maiden aunt to whom he is devoted. Aunt Jennie doesn't have much business of her own to mind so she spends most of her time minding ours. She has many good qualities and the children love her, but one thing about Aunt Jennie gets me so mad I could spit nails.

Our four sons are between 6 and 12 years of age. They are full of pep and into everything. It is not possible for me to watch these kids 24 hours a day. I always know where they are but I can't police them. Anyone who has raised children will tell you that growing boys fall down, cut themselves, break teeth, and occasionally arms and legs.

Whenever Aunt Jennie hears that one of the boys has had an accident, she asks their father: "Where was their mother?" He turns to me and says, "That's a good question. Where WERE you?"

I resent the implication that I am derelict in my duty. How can I defend myself?—IRRITATED.

Dear Irritated: You don't need to defend yourself. Things happen to kids even when their mothers are there.

The next time Aunt Jennie

matter of fact

The chamois, whose soft plant skin is made into the original "shammy" leather, lives in the Alps high above the snowline. The animal resembles a roebuck. It became such a favorite sport of hunters that it has now become rare in its old haunts and is preserved in the Swiss National Park.

Indications Cong Short On Manpower

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The faces of the dead Viet Cong often seem young—very young.

Uninitiated observers in the Mekong Delta area might be tempted to draw sweeping conclusions: The Viet Cong are running low on manpower—losses have hurt them severely. They are using more women for totting rifles and hurling grenades.

But people familiar with the background know better than to draw conclusions.

Yes, the Viet Cong have been hurt. But a Viet Cong guerrilla often begins carrying a rifle at 14 or 15. By 17 he is a seasoned fighter. He works his way up—from courier to spy to guerrilla fighter, to company commander and then, perhaps, into some crack fighting battalion.

Pictures found in battle areas—photos that are evidently cherished mementos of fallen young Viet Cong fighters—seem to tell a story. But the real meaning is never clear.

One sees in pictures taken from bodies the evidences of discipline: The Viet Cong undergoing rigorous calisthenics between battles. Mementos are decorated often with handwritten slogans of battle.

Sometimes the pictures are romantic—a snapshot of a face within a heart-shaped cutout. But almost always the slogans are there, too.

"We are worker-fighters."
"We will always be valiant."

There is evidence that the Viet Cong's defection rate has risen in the first nine months of this year in the Delta area. Few experts doubt that the rate of recruitment is higher than the rate of defection. And indications are that the training and experience of the Delta Viet Cong have made them able to adapt themselves rapidly to the tactics of the other side. They are as hard as ever to find, smoke out and kill.

Dangerous Job Tag Is News To Carrier's Hook Runner

IN THE SOUTH CHINA SEA (AP) — The next time you begin to despair of the younger generation, of bearded beatniks tearing up their draft cards and picketing the White House, think of kids like Billy Collins.

Airman Apprentice Collins, from Madison, Wis., is 18. His short-cropped blond hair often is matted with sweat, and the grease and grime of his precarious profession run down his face in streaky black rivulets.

Collins is a hook runner, the most dangerous job on the deck of the aircraft carrier Independence.

War to Billy Collins means standing in the dark in the middle of the flight deck, five feet from the foul line, while a 50,000-pound attack bomber thunders toward him at better than 200 miles an hour. As soon as the pilot catches the arresting gear with his plane's tail hook, Billy runs out to be sure the plane has disengaged the wire, then waves it forward to be parked on the bow. If, as frequently happens with Sky Hawks and smaller prop planes, the tail hook fails to disengage, Billy tries to dislodge it by belting the wire with a boat hook.

"Those kids make about $136 a month. I wouldn't take that job for a general's paycheck," said Lt. Cmdr. Jim Bell of Cumberland, Md., a jet pilot who doesn't regard his own job as half so dangerous.

Bell flies a huge Vigilante reconnaissance bomber on strikes into North Viet Nam, regularly risking Communist anti-aircraft fire and surface-to-air missiles

Music Career Fails To Foil School Plans

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — To Jan Berry, the whole affair had a feeling of unreality: the onrushing locomotive, bodies strewn about as on a battlefield, his own leg dangling at a crazy angle.

But the event was painfully real. A month later, the rock 'n' roll singer is able to gain some perspective on the catastrophe that nipped his budding film career on the day it began.

Berry is a member of the singing act, Jan and Dean, the latter being Dean Torrence. The two boys messed around with rock 'n' roll while students at University High School in West Los Angeles, scored with their first record, "Jenny Lee."

In the shaggy, semi-literate world of rock 'n' roll, Jan and Dean stand out. They are well-groomed and look like football ends, which they once were. Although they can earn as much as $5,000 per night on singing dates, they refused to let careers interrupt their schooling. Dean graduated in art at the University of Southern California. Jan got through pre-med at UCLA and is now in his second year at California College of Medicine.

BALLOONS GALORE—Actress Anita Ekberg has her hands too full trying to keep her perch on a merry-go-round while neck deep in balloons for this scene from a new film, "The Alphabet Murders."

Their wholesome appeal attracted the interest of Paramount Pictures, which signed them for a starring film, "Easy Come, Easy Go."

Last month they began shooting the movie with a train sequence at Chatsworth in the San Fernando Valley. The first day's work was actually the tag of the film, in which the pair was to race before a train.

Jan and Dean had performed their scenes during the day, then they watched as the camera crew filmed the oncoming train. The camera was mounted on a flatcar which was pulled by another locomotive.

"This is too dangerous for me; I'm getting off," said Dean after a couple of takes.

"I'm going to watch just one more take," said Jan, remaining on the flatcar.

After the next shot began, the oncoming locomotive seemed to be gaining on the camera flatcar, which was traveling about 40 m.p.h. Said Jan: "The flagman in the other engine was waving us off but I still couldn't believe what was going on."

Within seconds it was apparent that a crash was coming. Jan joined the crew members in leaping off the flatcar.

"I saw the other guys sprawled all over the landscape, bloody and delirious," Jan recalled. "I still couldn't believe it. Then I looked down at my foot and saw that it was pointed the wrong way."

Somehow he managed to hop to a road where he hailed a car to take him to a hospital to set the leg. Fourteen members of the crew also suffered broken bones; director Barry Shear's injuries included four breaks in an arm, two in the pelvis and eight ribs.

Jan returned to medical school this month, and Paramount is hopeful he will be recovered enough to resume "Easy Come, Easy Go" in January.

Fires In City

A cigarette set fire to a couch and caused $250 damage shortly before 8 p.m. Sunday at the apartment of Barry Lindquist, 918½ South Lamine.

Firemen used one booster line to douse the blaze and estimated damage at $150 to the structure and $100 to the contents of the apartment.

Smoking was blamed for a fire in a chair at 7:36 a.m. Sunday at the residence of Alvin Staten, 304 East St. Louis.

Firemen extinguished the fire with one booster line. Damage was slight to the residence and estimated at $25 to the contents.

Police Reports

Police investigated a forced entry to the McCown's Brothers warehouse, St. Louis and Mill, Monday morning, but no loss was reported. Police said the warehouse was apparently entered by children who pried boards loose on a door to gain entrance.

Joe Van Horn, of the DX Showcase Station on South Limit, reported Sunday an unholstered panel was missing from the interior of a wrecked 1957 auto parked at the rear of the service station. The auto was the property of Tom Dorewiler, Sedalia. The loss was set at $50.

Police reported early Sunday that pranksters had thrown toilet tissue in yards at Ninth and Grand.

Accidents

No injuries were reported in an accident at 16th Street and Limit about 5:32 p.m. Sunday but damage resulted to the two vehicles involved.

According to the police report, a 1960 Chevrolet sedan driven by George Demand, Smithton, was headed north and a 1964 Ford station wagon driven by Ralph G. Wegener, Raytown, was also going north, both drivers planning to make a left turn to go west on 16th Street.

The right front fender on the station wagon was damaged and the left rear panel on the Chevrolet damaged in the accident. Both automobiles were driven away under their own power.

Parking meter No. 325 was knocked down in the 200 block on South Lamine Avenue, about 11:03 o'clock Saturday night when struck by a car driven by Golder R. Copas, 22, of 508 East Walnut.

According to the police report, Copas indicated his car went out of control and struck the meter post, knocking it over. Copas was given a police summons to appear in police court Monday morning.

Police Court

Billy Graham Back At Mountain Home

MONTREAT, N.C. (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham is back at his North Carolina mountain home after undergoing surgery at the Mayo Clinic twice within three weeks for a prostate condition.

Graham returned from the Rochester, Minn., clinic Sunday 10 pounds below his normal weight. But he said he felt fine and will spend the next 2½ weeks preparing himself for a crusade next month in Houston, Tex.

Graham said President Johnson telephoned him four times and sent flowers on three occasions.

the local Pakistani command claims to have suffered a number of casualties in killed, wounded and missing," Thant said.

He quoted from the report of a U.N. observer at the scene:

"Difficult to state categorically if Pakistani artillery did retaliate but considered opinion is that Indians started the firing and I believe some shots were returned. I consider this situation explosive and I am experiencing great difficulty in preventing the Pakistan side from retaliation."

Both nations agreed last week to heed a Security Council call for a cease-fire in their undeclared, 22-day-old war over ownership of divided Kashmir. The truce went into effect at dawn Thursday.

It was to be followed by withdrawal of both sides to positions they held before the fighting broke out Aug. 5. Thant said India had ignored a request Saturday to pull back its forces and Pakistan had refused to do so until India agreed.

Indian Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri told a political meeting in New Delhi Sunday: "If Pakistan will not withdraw its forces from areas occupied by it, it will be impossible for us to do so unilaterally."

India claims it holds 690 square miles of Pakistani territory and lost 250 square miles during the fighting.

Skechy reports reaching New Delhi from the front indicated local commanders were trying to grab advantageous positions before large numbers of U.N. observers arrive to patrol the cease-fire line.

Both armies were digging in, indicating no thought was being given to the Security Council's request to withdraw. Trenches and fortifications were reported being constructed by each side, with the other trying to disrupt the work with occasional artillery fire.

after entering Pettis County in the Richard Conn ambulance from Tipton. He was accompanied to Sedalia by Mrs. McFarland who had been summoned to the filling station.

Dr. Ray Lyle, coroner of Morgan county along with Sheriff Hull investigated the death of Turpin, while Dr. John M. Rodeman, assistant coroner, conducted an investigation of the McFarland death at Bothwell Hospital while Sgt. Slevin made the investigation at the service station. Trooper Pete Stohr of Sedalia, obtained the three bullets, removed from the body of McFarland, and turned them over to the State Patrol for examination at Jefferson City.

Sgt. Slevin said Monday that no charges have been filed against Hickman and that the investigation is continuing. Several other persons with knowledge of the incident were to be questioned later today, he added.

Hickman is not being held, the sergeant said.

Saigon in the Mekong Delta. Roraback was captured in November, 1963 when the Viet Cong overran another Special Forces camp west of Saigon near the Cambodian border. One of two other Americans captured with him, Sgt. Isaac Camacho of El Paso, Tex., escaped last July.

Roraback is the son of Esther M. Robbins, Baldwin, N.Y., and George D. Roraback, West Hollywood, Fla.

Radio Hanoi said the two Americans were executed Sunday morning in a "liberated area of South Viet Nam" — meaning in Viet Cong territory — because they "had committed many crimes against the South Vietnamese people." Then, quoting a Viet Cong spokesman, it accused the United States of "having ordered their henchmen to kill" the three Communist sympathizers executed in Da Nang last Wednesday.

Washington, charged with disturbing the peace on complaint of Roseziner Gray, pleaded innocent and after a hearing the case was dismissed.

State Roads Toll to 9 On Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

At least nine persons died in Missouri traffic accidents over the weekend.

Nicholas Joseph Regan III, of Pleasant Hill, and Jerald Ray Yates, 19, of Lee's Summit were killed Sunday when their car ran off Missouri 7 three miles south of Pleasant Hill, ran through a shallow creek and hit an embankment.

A collision of a car and a truck on U.S. 63 north of Columbia Sunday killed Mary Katherine McGee, 44, of near Columbia, driver of the car.

Five other victims died Saturday.

Harold Kircher, 63, of St. Louis was struck by a car and killed while walking across South Broadway near his home. Earlier in the day, Mrs. Margaret Worley, 69, was hit by a car as she stepped into an intersection in St. Louis.

A car overturned and caught fire on a rural road near DeSoto and James Joseph Wickham, 57, burned to death after he was trapped inside.

Donald Lloyd Anderson, an Air Force captain stationed at Sawyer Air Force Base, Mich., was killed when his small car crashed into the side of a station wagon on U.S. 67 near Silva, Mo.

Lawrence Leible, 46, of Normandy, a St. Louis suburb, died Saturday of injuries received in a two-car collision near Ferguson Friday night.

Two cars collided at Vivion Road and North Broadway in Kansas City Friday night, killing 17-year-old Patricia White.

PLANS FOR CAPITAL — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, center, met with her beautification committee at the White House last week to consider plans for improving the appearance of the nation's capital. George Herizog, of National Park Service, left, points to model of proposed plan to change the area around the White House from the Treasury Building to 13th Street, from E. Street to Pennsylvania Ave. Treasury Building, which would be retained in its present state, is partially shown at left. The others would be new structures. At right is Mrs. Albert D. Lasker, New York, a committee member. (UPI)

Review of Week's News

EDITORS'S NOTE—Facets of U.S. life this week: A matter of breed cats in Maryland. Military twin problems in Ohio. A "bridge" game in Tennessee. A solar heat gadget for farmers in Kansas. A sentimental auction in New York.

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — The Baltimore Fire Board is treading on kitten's paws in its consideration of abandoning animal rescue service.

Some recent monkey business may be the straw which broke the camel's back.

"It made our men look ridiculous," said Stanley Scherr, Fire Board president, after a number of firefighters helped catch an escaped monkey.

"I believe it's about time we stopped sending our men out after cats in trees," Scherr said. "Only if the animal is dangerous like a tiger should we send anyone out for assistance."

Fire Chief John J. Killen agreed. "When they are hungry they'll come down. Did you ever see the skeleton of a cat in a tree?"

ATHENS, Tenn. (AP) — A bridge game is holding up progress in dredging the Hiwassee River.

The bridge spans the Hiwassee between McMinn and Bradley counties. The foursome—the two counties and the towns of Calhoun and Charleston—won't claim it.

Charlie Beasley, executive director of the McMinn County Committee of 100, says the bridge must be moved before the Tennessee Valley Authority can continue dredging.

Beasley said that several industrial prospects are interested in locating in the area, but only if the river is dredged.

He said Bradley won't claim the bridge, and McMinn County, Charleston and Calhoun haven't claimed it.

The McMinn County Council has gone on record as favoring removal of the span, but only if the other three agree.

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Air-men of the 180th Tactical Fighter Group have a major problem.

It's Maj. Gill—or Majors Gill, to be specific.

Maj. John Gill is maintenance staff officer for the Ohio Air National Guard unit. Maj. Joe Gill, his identical twin, is the base civil engineer.

It's unusual for brothers to be assigned together, but the Gills have been together throughout a military career that started in 1943. President Roosevelt signed a special request to let them train together.

Both joined the Ohio Air Guard in 1956 and both saw active duty during the Berlin crisis. Both are pilots. They live next door to each other in suburban Sylvania and operate an asphalt and cement company.

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The family homestead has been saved for the "Rose Lady of Albany," thanks to dogged bidding by her grandson at an auction of tax-delinquent real estate.

Bertha Garfield Myers, 77, a widow, will be able to continue making artificial flowers and living in the house, built by her husband more than half-century ago.

The grandson, Alfred F. Lemon, a clerk in the state government, outbid a contractor for the home and adjoining lots. Lemon obtained the property for $25,700, far more than its assessed value.

"Our family attaches a lot of sentiment to it," he explained.

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP) — Heat from the sun is being captured in huge plastic envelopes at Kansas State University and used for drying grain. The gadget is ingenious and promises to be a boon in countries where there is a shortage of natural fuel.

George Mowry, an agricultural engineer, says the heaters are practical and can be used to provide heated air and reduce costs of drying other crops.

"Even if air could be warmed only 10 to 15 degrees," he says, "it would be a great help in drying grain in elevators."

The collapsible plastic heater developed at K-State has warmed the air it contains as much as 30 degrees on sunny autumn days. It's a simple envelope with black plastic on the bottom and clear plastic on top. A wire framework holds open the envelope to admit air and anchors a third sheet of plastic down the center of the envelope. This additional sheet is the heat absorber.

Air is drawn into the envelope on either side of the piece of plastic and then is blown through stored grain. The plastic gets hot, "so hot it will burn you," Mowry said.

Testimony Expected To Rock the Rackets

BELLEVILLE, Ill. (AP) — Testimony expected to rock the rackets in Southern Illinois will be given at hearings of the Illinois Crime Commission opening today.

Agents for the commission have been summoned to tell of gambling, narcotics traffic and liquor law violations in the St. Clair County area following months of investigation.

The 12-man commission, established in 1963, investigates organized crime, evaluates the extent to which it exists in the state and evaluates the efficiency of law enforcement agencies.

It has the authority to issue subpoenas and to take testimony, which is recorded and made available to police and prosecutors.

People in Those Tin Skins

Why is it that the normal, average man—or woman—who would never rudely push aside a fellow pedestrian on the sidewalk can change completely behind the wheel of a car and become inconsiderate, careless and even reckless?

A lot of people have pondered the question and have come up with a lot of ideas—such as the otherwise inadequate-feeling person, or that some people unconsciously use an automobile to work off petty angers and frustrations.

Doubtless there is much truth in these suggestions, but a psychologist offers another that seems to be more inclusive and to go farther toward explaining the many thoughtless and accident-inviting tricks most of us have been guilty of at one time or another.

Says Dr. Fred McKinney of the University of Missouri:

"Of course, the immediate cause will vary with the individual. But I believe the general, more basic cause is the depersonalization that happens when you get behind the wheel. You sort of become a part of the car. The other driver does, too, in your eyes and the human feeling is watered down."

In this depersonalized, machine-vs.-machine situation, a driver may not act as responsibly, may feel less accountable for his actions than he would in a human-to-human situation.

This causes in turn, says McKinney, "less courtesy, less friendliness, less of all the human qualities that enable people to get along with each other."

"It's something all of us could profitably think about the next time we drive. Those other cars that get in our way and make us so impatient all contain people—human beings we would recognize and politely make room for if we met them walking down the street.

"You're Spying!"

News For You, Baby

Unless someone in your family happens to wear them, it is possible you may not know that there is a shortage of workers in the ever-changing field of diaper service.

And since diaper wearers are notably fussy about the service they get and are stubbornly unco-operative in cutting down on the number of diapers they use, the situation is regarded as serious.

The United States government is rushing to the rescue through its Labor Department, which plans to spend $141,854 to train 700 jobless workers in the diaper service.

Why is there a lack of interest in a diaper service career?

As good an answer as any was perhaps given by an official of one diaper service who observed glumly, "Seems like nobody wants to start at the bottom any more."

Our Curious Times

This has to be the all-time ideal summer job: $75 a day just to lie around for 10 days doing nothing, with constant nursing care, meals in bed and free entertainment; then six weeks' vacation; then back to the old grind for another 10 days of lying around.

Twelve students from Southern California colleges "worked" in this manner during the past summer for the Douglas Missile and Space Systems Division in Santa Monica in a research project for National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The object was to gather data on the effects of prolonged exposure to weightlessness. There were a few catches, however, in this idyllic employment.

The volunteers were first put through a strenuous routine of exercises to build up their metabolic activity.

Then they had to spend one of the 10-day periods immersed up to their necks in tubs

Draft Dodging Is Latest U.S. Sport

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Drew Pearson is on a news-gathering tour of Africa. In his absence the column is written by his associate, Jack Anderson.)

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — The need for patriotic young men to fight in Viet Nam has produced a rush, not to the recruiting centers but in the opposite direction. Never have so many red-blooded American boys tried so many ruses to get out of serving their country.

Though no precise figures have been compiled, selective service officials suspect that draft dodging is worse now than at any time since the Civil War.

Not only are more men neglecting to register, ignoring official correspondence, refusing to report for their physicals, and tearing up their draft cards, but the threat of military service has scared thousands into premature marriages, unplanned schooling, and unwanted jobs.

Congressmen have been bombarding local boards with requests for deferments. Prominent people have brought pressure on the boards to exempt their sons. Employers have claimed that the most unlikely young workers are essential to the home front.

Men of draft age, 19 to 26, simply don't seem to understand the necessity for manning the frontiers of freedom half a world away. The Viet Nam war is either too remote or too abstruse to arouse their patriotism.

Those who ask what they can do for their country often seek the answer outside of the armed forces. Those who must put on a uniform are more pitted than praised.

Future Draft Calls

Yet the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps are demanding more men to keep South Viet Nam from falling to the communists.

Next month, 33,600 new draftees will be pressed into service. The call probably will be increased in November and December. The first married men without children will be ordered to duty after Christmas.

Selective Service will continue to defer college students, though some attending part

Looking Backward

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Reverend Father Christian Daniel, C. PP. S., who has been pastor of Sacred Heart church more than 20 years, and prior to that an assistant pastor for seven years, has been transferred to the Fort Wayne, Ind., diocese to become pastor of St. Joseph's church at Star City. Father Andrew Brunswick, C. PP. S., pastor of St. Catherine's church, Tulsa, Okla., a former assistant pastor here, will succeed Father Daniel. He returns to Sedalia after an absence of 12 years.

FORTY YEARS AGO

At an assembly of high school boys in Smith-Cotton High school auditorium short addresses were made by Heber U. Hunt, principal of the high school, and A. A. Buschman, athletic coach, urging the boys not to smoke in the vicinity of the school or to use profane language in or around the school. Coach Buschman stated he would try to see that these things were observed by those boys who are under him in athletics.

of oil. (The other period was spent in bed to see which of the two methods best simulates zero gravity.)

Finally, following each 10-day reclining session, the boys were whirled on a centrifuge—a sort of space-age merry-go-round—to test their tolerance to rotations up to eight times the force of gravity.

They earned their money.

time or making poor grades may be inducted. Medical standards for draftees may also be lowered in the months ahead.

Yet only four out of ten militarily eligible youths are likely to be put into uniform, which means over half will escape service. This is bound to produce quixotic standards and cause injustices.

Selective Service operates somewhat like Russian roulette. As a young man stands on the threshold of his future, Uncle Sam hands him a revolver. Five chambers are marked "deferred," the sixth is loaded with a draft call. He spins the cylinder and takes his chance.

How To Beat Draft

There are many ways to beat the draft; the ruses range from deliberately flunking tests to "instant" fatherhood. People with masters' degrees have miraculously failed their educational tests. And more than one illegitimate child has been given a name because his father sought to duck the draft.

A few desperate draft dodgers, feeling the hot breath of the local board on their necks, have actually contrived to get arrested for minor crimes in order to be found morally unfit.

The most common grounds for exemption are physical or mental unfitness. Next are deferments for dependency. Then come school and job deferments.

Comparatively few youths take their chances on violating the selective service laws outright, but the number is increasing at an alarming rate. Worst problem: 18-year-olds who fail to register.

The local boards simply have no way of discovering that a boy has turned 18 and hasn't registered, unless someone turns him in.

It is risky, however, to pull a fast one on Uncle Sam. Those who try it usually get caught. They are subject to five years in prison, and a $10,000 fine.

But more often, their names are merely put at the head of the list, and they are the first to be hustled off to boot camp.

Meanwhile, the inequities in our selective service system and the failure to convince young people of their patriotic duty are creating a generation of draft dodgers.

The World Today

Scalping Knife Poised Over LBJ

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — This year has been like one long Indian summer for President Johnson.

He was the medicine man and Congress took his medicine and danced as he wanted. But now some Senate warriors have their scalping knives out. Their would-be victim is a bill to make the union shop possible in all 50 states by repealing section 14B of the 1947 Taft-Hartley Act. Under 14B any state can outlaw the union shop. As of now, 19 states do.

The House passed this bill last July, although by a fairly narrow squeak, 221 to 203, with most of the opposition from Republicans but a lot from Democrats, even though Johnson gave it his blessing and asked for it.

Then it moved over to the Senate and at once banged into trouble.

A band of about two dozen senators of both parties set out to polish it off, led by Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, the Republicans' Senate chief who has otherwise been very helpful to Johnson all year.

At this moment Congress, which made a tremendous record in 1965, has been rolling toward a finish which could come around mid-October if there is no uproar over something.

There will be an uproar if the Democratic leadership tries to put through the union shop measure. Dirksen, among others, has threatened a filibuster. If that happens, Congress could be here for the snow.

The Democrats' 1964 campaign platform called for repeal of 14B. So did Johnson in his State of the Union message last January and again in a special message in May.

He said wiping out this section in the law would, he hoped, reduce conflicts in "our national labor policy." Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower is against repeal.

Organized labor, of course, wholeheartedly backs repeal. But if there is a floor fight over the bill labor may have something else to worry about besides just this one change in the Taft-Hartley Act.

Republicans have said they would use the bill as a vehicle to try to win broad changes in the labor law.

Supporters of the bill, like Sen. Wayne Morse, Oregon Democrat, take the position that this year Congress should concern itself only with knocking out 14B and wait for next year before considering other changes.

Under 14B states can pass their own "right-to-work" laws banning labor contracts which compel workers to join a union. Repeal of 14B would make union shops legal in all states, perhaps. There would be court fights over it.

Arguments for and against the union shop go like this:

For: Unions have expenses, including the cost of negotiating contracts. Union members pay for those expenses through dues and assessments. Therefore all workers in a plant covered by a contract should have to pay their share by being union members.

More bluntly labor argues that nonunion workers are "free-riders" since under federal law a union must bargain for all workers covered by a contract, whether they are union members or not.

Against: No worker should be compelled to join any organization against his will as a condition for holding a job.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield has said it would be difficult to get the two-thirds majority to stop a filibuster. Supporters of the bill try to discount talk of one.

The 19 states which ban the union shop are Arkansas, Arizona, Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Iowa, Kansas, Mississippi, North Carolina, North Dakota, Nevada, Nebraska, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Virginia and Wyoming.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Calamine Lotion For Insect Bite Victims

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A mother writes that every time her 18-month-old son is bitten by a mosquito or a sand fly the bite swells and gets red. It stays that way for about a week. Since some persons are more sensitive to insect bites than others this is not surprising. Even without an increased sensitivity this could occur if the child scratches the top layer of the skin off and gets a mild infection in the bite.

This child should be protected by applying an insect repellent and by having him sleep under a mosquito net. For any bites that occur in spite of these precautions calamine lotion with 1 per cent phenol would be soothing. The lotion should be dabbed on lightly with absorbent cotton and allowed to dry. An ointment that contains hydrocortisone or an antihistamine will also relieve the itching and promote healing.

Q — Why do doctors advise measles vaccine for children of all ages when a recent periodical says that the vaccine is not recommended for children over 5?

A — When measles vaccine first became available it was not recommended for children over the age of 5 because the rate of occurrences of complications accompanying measles in older children is much less than in younger children. Although this is still true, serious complications can and do occur in children who are over 5 and, according to one very able pediatrician, the danger of complications depends on the severity of the disease in a given epidemic rather than on the age of the victims. If I had a child who was over 5 and who had not had measles I would certainly want him to have the protection afforded by the vaccine.

Q — My 5-year-old daughter has flat feet and is knock kneed. Can this be corrected?

A — A moderate degree of flatfoot is usually no handicap but in those children in whom it is a handicap special orthopedic shoes may be required. Such shoes should never be used without also using corrective exercises to strengthen the arches. The best exercise is to have your daughter pick up marbles with her toes.

Flat feet and knock-knees often go together and are an evidence of poor muscular development. The best results from corrective exercises are obtained when they are started before the child is 3. It may be necessary for your daughter to wear leg braces for a while or to have an operation to correct the deformity depending on how severe it is.

Start Young to Prevent Rearing a Child Tyrant

By Ruth Millett
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

ent is meekly taking the dressing down.

When you are forced to be a silent witness to one of those unpleasant scenes you end up thinking less of the young person and less of the parents who permit such rudeness.

You keep wondering when the parent is going to stop trying to placate the rude young son or daughter and put him firmly and finally in his place. But it doesn't happen.

So then you start to wonder how a parent-child relationship ever came to the place where the parent is afraid to demand respect and courtesy from his own child.

Of course, this kind of relationship doesn't develop overnight when the child reaches a certain age. It comes gradually. It starts when the child is still young and is allowed to get his way instead of a spanking if he protests enough, kicks and screams enough, or keeps nagging long enough.

Once a small child finds out that his parents aren't strong enough to hold out against his pleas, temper tantrums, or sulking, once he knows they can't say "no" to him and make it stick, the child starts to get the upper hand and to rule the roost.

Then, year by year, the child becomes more of a tyrant, and the more he can talk back to and embarrass his parents in front of their friends and before strangers the more power he has over them.

The young people who treat their parents with courtesy and respect are the ones who were told the first time they said "I won't" to either mother or father: "Yes, you will. And you had better be quick about it."

A child brought up that way knows who is boss around the house, and it is reassuring to him to know that he isn't it.

The Business World

Trading Volume Running Ahead of Last Year's Total

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — A stock trading rush is on in Wall Street. People bought nearly 41 million shares last week—or, if you prefer, sold that many, since someone sells every share that someone else buys.

Why are some individual or institutional investors suddenly buying so many? Why are others so willing to sell that many shares?

A prime motivation for many buyers apparently is all the talk that today's prosperity is sure to get even better. Auto men talk of a nine-million car year. Steel is doing better after its labor settlement than most people had thought possible. Employment is at a record high. So are incomes and spending. Popular stock price averages have closed higher week after week.

So the trading volume on the New York Stock Exchange is running far ahead of this time a year ago. The 41 million shares last week, with Thursday alone accounting for 10 million of that, followed a volume of 35 million the previous week, 26 million in the four-day trading in the week ending September 10, nearly 28 million in the week ending September 3, and 27 million in the week ending August 27.

In those five weeks 157,223,000 shares changed hands, compared with 116,883,000 in the like period of 1964.

The daily quota of news in recent weeks has been an effective stimulant. The current business upswing is in its 55th month, a peacetime record. The spring and summer months were better than first predicted. Corporate profits are proving larger than many hoped. The public seems convinced they are still climbing.

The Viet Nam war leads investors to believe many companies will prosper from increased defense spending. Also they feel that the plans for the Great Society mean that increased government spending will tend to keep prosperity rolling on.

Brokers say that some investors, especially the smaller ones, are seeking stocks as a hedge against the inflation they suspect may be on the way.

But others, brokers say, figure just the opposite. They consider inflation to be unlikely because the economic upswing is soundly based. So they do not fear the bust that invariably follows an inflation-inspired boom. They can cite statements by many government officials to that effect and also by most corporate economists.

Wall Street notes, too, that more people than ever before are in a position now to dabble in stocks if they like. Disposable income after taking care of the necessities has never been so large. And more people are taking an interest in business and finance, and are more knowledgeable about investments in general and individual companies in particular.

Some sellers may be skittish over the flocking of novices into the market. This could set off a speculative boom with the traditional price break to follow.

Ask Inside Latches

BOSTON (AP) — All refrigerators sold in Massachusetts in 1967 and thereafter would be required to have inside release handles, under a bill being drafted for two members of the Massachusetts House.

The legislation stems from the deaths last week of three small Boston children who suffocated after becoming trapped in a refrigerator stored behind an appliance store.

University Day

High school seniors and their parents are invited to attend University Day, Saturday, Oct. 2, at the University of Missouri, Columbia.

The program starts in Jesse Hall Auditorium at 9:45 a.m. with a word of welcome by Dr. John Schwada, chancellor of the University of Missouri. From 10:10 a.m. to 11:30 a.m., guided tours will be given to the following schools and departments: Agriculture, Arts and Science (also includes students planning to enter the Schools of Business and Public Administration, Journalism, Law, and Medicine), Education (including Physical Education, Home Economics Education, Agricultural Education, Industrial Education, and Secretarial Education), Engineering, Forestry, Home Economics, and Nursing.

Parents are invited to attend a meeting from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. in Jesse Hall Auditorium to ask specific questions of University personnel. Also, another informal session to visit with staff members will be held in the afternoon from 2 to 3:30 p.m. in the Student Union, Rooms 201-202. Coffee will be served.

The afternoon general assembly will begin at 1:15 p.m. There will be visits to professional schools from 2 to 3:30 p.m. as follows: Business and Public Administration, Law, Journalism, Medicine, Social and Community Services, and Veterinary Medicine.

Students who do not plan to visit any of the professional schools are invited to revisit their first or second choice colleges or the following facilities: Army and Air Force ROTC, Navy ROTC, A. P. Green Chapel, General Library, Closed Circuit Television, KMIT-TV, Testing and Counseling Service, Residence Hall — Men, Residence Hall — Women, a Fraternity, and a Sorority.

Tours will close at 3:30 p.m.

Wrap-Up

This will be the last garden item for the 1965 gardening season. So, to wrap up things, garden-wise, I would like to offer the following suggestions pertaining to your garden from now until the snow flies.

First, a few tips on harvesting. Don't forget to dig your sweet potatoes before they get chilled in the ground. A frost won't hurt them too much. It will just kill the vines. But the cool soil temperatures associated with frosty conditions can chill the potatoes and cause troubles in storage.

After digging, cure potatoes at 80 to 85 degrees Fahrenheit for about two weeks. Then store at a temperature of 55 to 60 degrees. Never allow sweet potatoes to be subjected to temperatures below 50 degrees.

Keep your ear tuned to the weatherman during late September and October for predicted fall frosts. Harvest your mature green tomatoes prior to the predicted killing frost.

Mature green tomatoes are those that have attained a reasonable size and may have a whitish appearance, at least on the blossom end. Store these mature green tomatoes in your basement, preferably wrapping in tissue paper to help prevent loss of moisture.

Check your tomatoes about once a week. Those that have begun to color should be removed and consumed when fully colored. You could have tomatoes until Thanksgiving or later, depending upon when the first frost comes.

Now a word or two about handling the garden after the first killing frost. You still might have some root crops and greens that occupy the garden until the ground freezes. But for the most part, the garden season is over. Now what? Do you forget about the garden until next March? I hope not.

You can go a long way this fall towards having a better garden next year. First of all, what about the location of your present garden. Is it in the most advantageous location with respect to convenience, soil type, drainage, and exposure to sunlight? Can you move your garden to a better location? If so, now is the time to decide this.

Have your newly selected garden soil tested. Add the required lime and fertilizer and fall plow. If the area is in sod, plow early and most of the sod will decompose by next spring. It would help to disc and break up the sod before plowing.

If you are in a situation where it is impossible to move your garden to a new location here are some practices you might employ. Remove all garden plants killed by the frost. If they were diseased, burn them. If not, put them in the compost pile or chop them up and turn them under when you fall plow.

What about the organic matter content of your garden? This fall is an excellent time to add organic matter to your garden. Rotted manure, leafmold or most any organic material can be applied this fall and turned under.

It would be well to mix the organic matter with the soil before turning it under. And we do think that fall plowing, and leaving the soil in a rough condition over the winter is most advantageous. It permits incorporation of organic matter at a most favorable time, it allows good penetration of rains and snows over the winter months and the soil dries out much faster in early spring, enabling you to get your spring garden planted on time.

Seeding Wheat After Soybeans

Approximately three million acres of soybeans will be harvested this fall. Much of this acreage really should have a cover this winter to reduce erosion. Wheat seeded immediately after the beans are harvested will give a high degree of erosion control and produce a good crop of grain in the process.

In years when moisture is short after the wheat is seeded, yields may be reduced. However in general the yield can be expected to be close to that secured where wheat is seeded in the normal way on soils of comparable fertility.

Where wheat is to follow beans, however, it is essential that the seeding of the wheat be done as soon as possible after the beans are harvested. The ground should be disked only as much as necessary to permit good coverage of the wheat seed.

Soybeans, as you know, draw heavily on phosphorus and potash. Being a legume, the beans may add some nitrogen, but the bean refuse in the soil will tie up this and probably other nutrients. Therefore it is best to use fertilizer with the same ratio and in the same amount as if seeding on a normally prepared field.

If your beans are not extremely grassy and weedy, and you can get the beans off so that wheat can be seeded by Oct. 10 in North Missouri, Oct. 15 to 20 in Central Missouri, and Oct. 30 in South Missouri, you can expect your wheat to give a good cover and yield of grain.

Be careful not to overdisk. Wheat likes a firm seed bed and soybeans usually leave the soil quite tilable. It is easy to disk too deep. Remember to fertilize as you would following other crops. Nitrogen application can be made on wheat during the winter or early spring, just as you would following other crops.

Drilling on the contour on sloping land will give more effective erosion control.

Fall Market Outlook Meet Slated Here

The Livestock and Wool Marketing Department of the Missouri Farm Bureau Federation has arranged a fall market outlook meeting to be held in Pettis County at the REA Building on Sept. 29 beginning at 8 p.m.

The purpose of this meeting is to bring the best information possible to livestock producers on price trends of livestock for the next several months, the cost of replacement livestock and the supply of feed grains and roughage available for livestock producers, it was announced by Matt O. Green III, president of the Pettis County Farm Bureau.

The Producers Livestock Marketing Association will have a representative at the meeting who will discuss current markets and price trends for livestock for the immediate future. A representative of the Economics Department of the Missouri College of Agriculture will attend the meeting to bring factual information not only on the price trends in livestock but also the broad economic base on which the whole economy is affected. This will include the labor force, total income, industrial activities, foreign trade and the impact of unsettled world conditions on probable price trends for the months ahead.

KC Philharmonic Contracts Signed

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Musicians signed a one-year contract with the Kansas City Philharmonic Sunday, guaranteeing a 1965-66 orchestral season.

Under the new contract the minimum scale for 38 members of the 38-man orchestra is raised to $115 weekly, up $5 from the minimum scale last season, and the season is increased to 26 weeks from 25 last year.

Other parts of the contract are designed to improve touring conditions in expectation that there will be increased demands for the orchestra's services outside the immediate Kansas City area.

The Philharmonic season begins Oct. 28 with the first rehearsal under the direction of Hans Schwieger. The first concert is set for Nov. 2.

NY Tribune Reappears On Stands

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Herald Tribune appeared on newsstands today for the first time since it shut down 11 days ago in support of the strikebound New York Times.

The newspaper resigned from the Publishers Association of New York Saturday, citing "economic and other considerations" for resuming publication.

Negotiations continue today between the striking AFL-CIO American Newspaper Guild and the Times and between the Mailers Union and the Publishers Association.

A Guild spokesman said some progress had been made Sunday, but added: "I don't expect an early break in the deadlock, not even this week."

The Guild struck the Times Sept. 16 in a dispute over job guarantees against automation and mergers, a voice in the introduction of automation, improved pensions and a union shop agreement requiring all editorial employees to join the Guild.

All other major dailies in New York suspended publication in support of the Times, except the New York Post. The Post resigned from the association during the 11-day strike in 1962-63.

The closing of the newspapers idled 17,000 newspaper workers and suspended circulation of 4.4 million newspapers daily.

The Herald Tribune had planned to increase its normal weekday circulation of 307,000 today, but a spokesman for the newspaper said wholesale distributors had canceled orders for extra papers.

Executive Vice President Robert MacDonald said the wholesalers had telephoned "one by one" to stop the increased orders. He said they gave "best business interests" as the reason for the cancellations.

The Newspaper and Mail Deliverers Union protested the wholesalers' action.

After the Guild struck the Times the Mailers Union announced it would not return to work even if the Guild and Times reached a settlement until it had a contract of its own.

The labor contracts expired March 31 but the unions have been working since then without a contract.

Washington Capsules

WASHINGTON (AP)—The issue of self-government for the District of Columbia hits the House floor today, and debate is expected to be sharp.

The world's financial leaders are meeting in Washington, and their early talks are revolving around a new international monetary system.

The Army is using a new method to spot the elusive Communist Viet Cong guerrillas who infiltrate the jungles of South Viet Nam.

Home Rule: Five times in recent years, the Senate has approved bills to provide self-government for the District of Columbia. And just as often those measures died in the House District Committee.

This year, however, a majority of the House — 218 members — signed a petition to force the proposal out of committee.

The plan reaches the House floor today and some observers predict a debate that could last three or four days.

At present, the city is governed by three commissioners appointed by the President. Congress serves as a watchdog and supplier of some funds.

World Money: Financial leaders from 103 nations are in Washington for a week-long conference of the International Monetary Fund and the World Bank.

The sessions were preceded by weekend meetings of the deputy finance ministers of 10 of the nations known as the "Group of 10."

They are preparing recommendations for their superiors on possible procedures for a world conference on international monetary reform.

The 10 finance ministers plan to meet Tuesday to act on the proposals.

Guerrilla Hunters: The Army has credited twin-engine Mohawk surveillance planes with a big assist in pinpointing Communist positions in the jungles of South Viet Nam. As a result more of the craft are expected to be put in use.

The key guerrilla detection in infrared sensing gear carried by the plane.

Sources say the special equipment can pick up heat radiation from Communist campfires hidden from view by heavy foliage.

Frost, Rain Cold Grips Nation Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Frost, rain and unseasonably low temperatures gripped the nation today and growers were told by officials in some states that much of their crop might be wiped out.

A killing frost struck northern Wisconsin, a state already hit hard by rains which have left crops trapped in fields too muddy for mechanical harvesting.

An official said a third of Wisconsin's sweet corn crop might be lost. Serious losses also are expected in carrots and cabbage. The rains have increased the possibility of a potato blight.

Many thousands of dollars damage, especially to corn and soybeans, was reported after the first killing frost Sunday in much of Minnesota. A county agent estimated that half the corn and soybeans were lost in Kandiyohi County.

Heavy damage to vegetables also was reported.

Coral Gables, Fla., was hit with 3.46 inches of rain and Miami Airport had 21 inches. Miami Beach had 2.18 inches. South Miami 2.55 inches and Tamiami Trail at 40-Mile Bend, 1.56 inches.

The September rainfall in Florida is 11.37 inches, 3 inches above normal.

Rain pounded southern Texas from San Antonio to the southern tip. It was the first general precipitation since May.

Some homes were flooded temporarily and a highway was closed. Most rains measured 2 or 3 inches, but Poteet, a village 30 miles south of San Antonio, had Brief showers helped alleviate the drought in the Northeast the last two days, but the rain was not enough. Boston has had 18.31 inches of rain this year. The normal amount is 31.66 inches.

Good Idea In Shifting Phone Hour

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Somebody at NBC had a fine idea in shifting the good, long-playing Telephone Hour to an early Sunday evening spot.

The low-key program, specializing in familiar music and big-name soloists, never fitted very well into its former late Tuesday evening spot.

But it seemed just the right kind of program for that period on Sunday, and in its season premiere, the biweekly program took off with an hour of Jerome Kern music. It was a delight to ear and eye, particularly the eye that saw it in color.

Soloists Ella Fitzgerald, Roberta Peters, Earl Wrightson, Nancy Dussault and John Davidson handled the composer's music with enthusiasm and verve—as did hostess Ginger Rogers who was also saddled with some pretty dull "and then he wrote —" prose.

Later, a return visit to ABC's "The FBI" confirmed, alas, an original impression that the series is pretty trashy stuff to be permitted to use the official seal of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The G-men Sunday night were so careless that they let a 9-year-old boy make a clean getaway because they neglected to have him watched.

Federal Communications Commission Chairman E. William Henry must have found plenty of audience agreement when, in a speech partly televised last week, he rapped the networks about summer viewing fare of "reruns and rejects."

His complaints were hardly novel, nor was his suggestion that summer be used as a time to experiment and develop new programs. Historically, however, few summer experiments or developments have made winter schedules — not even Andy Williams' well-received CBS variety show several seasons back or Vic Damone's "The Lively Ones" on NBC.

The industry answer to chairman Henry will be, as usual, that the cost of programs is so high that the summer reruns are needed to move a series from the red to the black.

Military Base Construction Bill Is Signed

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—A bill appropriating $1,756,635,000 for construction projects at U.S. military bases in this country and abroad was signed Sunday by President Johnson.

In the Army section of the bill is $71,542,000 to build enlisted men's barracks complexes, including $15,546,000 for a complex at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.

Involved in the work at Ft. Leonard Wood and other Army installations is a complex of 10 barracks and supporting facilities such as mess halls, gymnasiums, chapels and administrative structures.

Final figures represented a compromise between the House and Senate versions of the annual money bill which is $1,140,000 above the original House allowance and $2,869,000 below that recommended by the Senate.

Included in the bill was $555,000 for Ft. Riley, Kan., but the conferees agreed to postpone construction of a barracks complex there until the next fiscal year. The House accepted a Senate decision to eliminate $9 million from the bill for the complex at the Kansas post.

Warrensburg Gains Tie 7-5-1 Weekend Football Record By State Colleges

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Missouri colleges won seven, lost five and tied one Saturday night but Kirksville State's football team gave the most devastating performance by crushing upper Iowa, 61-6.

In giving fellow M.I.A.A. schools an ominous portent of things to come, Kirksville amassed an astounding 612 yards—353 on the ground and 259 in the air—in the non-conference victory.

Fullback Ron Villars and Danny Boyd, third-string halfback, each scored two touchdowns for the winners. The Bulldogs led, 35-0, by half time.

Kirksville's 259-yard air accumulation was the work of three quarterbacks — Dave Martin, Rich Gorzynski and Paul Comer.

Springfield State, another contender for M. I. A. A. laurels amassed 517 yards total offense in rolling past Panhandle, Okla., A.M. 35-13.

Pat Hogan set a school record by running 96 yards for one T.D. and quarterback Dan Young of Nevada scored once on a run and passed for two touchdowns. Cornelius Perry got loose another time on a 36-yard T.D. scamper.

Rolla's Miners and Warrensburg State, also-rans last year in the M.I.A.A., demonstrated that they can't be taken for granted.

Quarterback Ron Lewis hit Eugene Ricker and George Gasparovic for T.D. passes as Rolla defeated Pittsburg State, 19-7, and Warrensburg State last in the M.I.A.A. in 1964, gained a 7-7 tie with Washburn University, defending C.I.C. champion.

The Mules tied Washburn in the final period on a 76-yard pass and run play from quarterback John Repp to Keith Brown and John Hursman's extra point conversion.

Mike Crank, freshman 212-pound fullback for Maryville State, scored the first two Maryville T.D.'s as the Cats trimmed Peru, Neb., 18-18.

Missouri Valley stopped Graceland College of Lamoni, Iowa, 15-7, in its M.C.A.U. Conference opener as Bob Thomas's 33-yard T.D. run and Leo Ingolia's 22-yard field goal brought the Vikings from a 7-6 deficit.

In other games involving Missouri schools, Arkansas A.M. & N. defeated Lincoln, 19-6; Washington University of St. Louis trimmed Washburn, Ind., 17-7; Principia defeated Central Methodist, 32-0; Evansville, Ind. defeated Cape Girardeau State, 23-6; Iowa Wesleyan edged Culver-Stockton, 7-0; Doane, Neb., nipped Tarkio's winning streak at two, 23-13, and William Jewell defeated Emporia State, 20-0.

Nebraska Will Open League Play

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer

Nebraska's defending Big Eight football champions open their league schedule against improved Iowa State at Lincoln Saturday while Colorado, elevated now to the role of No. 1 dark horse, plays at Kansas State.

Missouri got an early jump in the title race with a convincing 13-0 victory at Oklahoma State last weekend while the rest of the league fell below expectations with a 3-3 split against outside teams.

This gave the Big Eight a 5-7-2 season record against outside teams going into this Saturday's tough four-game card which finds Kansas at California, Missouri at Minnesota, Navy at Oklahoma and Tulsa at Oklahoma State.

Missouri's tight defense permitted OSU into Tiger territory only twice and the Tigers rushed for 239 yards. Quarterback Gary Lane, who had a bad day in OSU's 10-7 victory over Missouri last year, ran 80 yards for the only touchdown and hit 7 of 12 passes for 94 yards. Halfback Charlie Brown gained 109 yards. Bill Bates kicked two field goals.

Nebraska jumped to a 21-0 first quarter lead, watched Air Force pull within four points then pulled itself together to win 27-17 at Air Force. Frank Solich, 158-pound Husker back, ran 80, 41 and 21 yards for touchdowns.

Colorado had unexpected trouble getting past Fresno State 10-7 at Boulder on a 31-yard field goal by Frank Rogers and 31-yard touchdown dash by Bill Harris.

Iowa State handed Pacific two early touchdowns at Ames before coming back to win 38-13 on Tim Van Galder's passing and Willie Robinson's running.

A combination of Kansas errors and alert, tough Arizona defensive play gave Arizona 16 points for a 23-15 victory at Lawrence. Sim Stokes of Kansas tied a Big Eight record by catching nine passes and the Jayhawks held a 297-151 bulge in offensive yardage, but quarterback Bob Skahan re-injured his leg and will be out indefinitely.

Oklahoma held a 323 to 241 edge in yardage at Pittsburg but went down 13-9 as Pitt quarterback Kenny Lucas threw two scoring strikes. Four interceptions hurt OU. K-State lost a 21-3 Friday night game at Brigham Young as it gave BYU two fumbles and an interception near the K-State goal.

Kansas coach Jack Mitchell was encouraged by the spirited play of his defensive unit, which permitted Arizona only one sustained drive—that in the first period.

"If we've got a defense," he said, "then we can do something. If we play like we did that last half, we're gonna beat somebody."

"Our whole season comes back to Skahan's availability," Mitchell said. "He may not play a down this Saturday and this may be a chronic thing. Bill Fenton isn't tall enough to be a drop-back passer and he isn't fast enough to get outside, even when they give us the run."

Doug Weaver, K-State coach, said "our defense was heroic in trying to keep us in the game. They did a great job but they have to play too much. Our offense is weaker than last year and we don't have the quick kick to give our defense a boost. I'm committed to playing sophomores on offense, but I like to think it's going to pay dividends."

Satch Sees 3-Innings Of Action

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Leroy (Satchel) Paige, baseball's living legend, returned to the majors after 12 years and blanked Boston on one hit for three innings. Now he'd like to become a pitching coach for the Kansas City A's next year.

A's owner Charles O. Finley made the offer in the clubhouse Saturday night after Satch's performance, unbelievable for a man 59 going on 65. Finley said Paige will qualify for a baseball pension next year.

Paige thanked Finley for his return to the majors. He made it clear later, however, that it's up to Abe Saperstein, Harlem Globetrotters owner, who has him under contract.

"It was Mr. Abe who brought me back into the light where people could see me — put me back into the big parks," Satchel said. "A lot of major league clubs had a chance to sign me but didn't take it. I was back in the woods for 15 years."

"I'm twisted up pretty good with Mr. Abe. I don't know whether the A's could untwist me."

Paige had an amazingly live fast ball, his famous hesitation pitch, a change-up curve and a submarine ball off the hip. Tall at 6-foot-4 and still lean at 193, he seemed to get better as he went along.

He needed just 28 pitches, 14 in the first inning, to retire nine of 10 batters. He got the last seven in a row in only 15 pitches. Carl Yastrzemski's double was the only hit. Tony Conigliaro, Felix Montilla and Mike Frank popped out on his hesitation pitch.

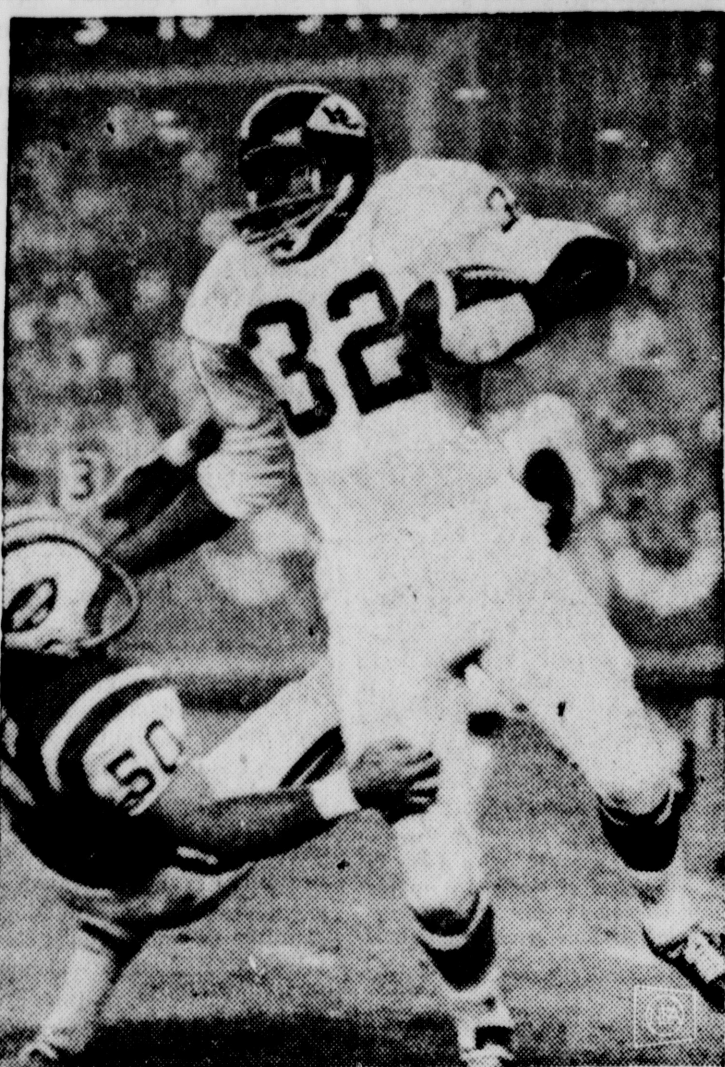

Many of Satchel's old teammates on the Kansas City Monarchs were on hand for a pregame exhibition with ex-stars of the Kansas City Blues.

Buck O'Neil, former Monarchs manager now a scout and coach for the Chicago Cubs, and Frank Duncan, ex-Monarch catcher and manager, both had the same favorite story about Satchel.

Paige walked two men to get to Josh Gibson, then fanned him on three fast balls for the final out in the deciding game of the 1942 Negro world series. They explained Gibson was rated the greatest hitter in the Negro leagues and Paige wanted to prove he was the greatest player.

said Lane's T.D. run was designed in the locker room at halftime. Devine said "our halfback (Monroe Phelps) turned the end to the outside; that gave Lane the opening upfield. We hadn't been able to turn their ends the first half. Consistency was the reason our offense was much better than against Kentucky."

Drysdale Strong Man

Giants, Dodgers Into Last Week

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Juan Marichal can't win. Don Drysdale can't do anything else.

And so the San Francisco Giants and Los Angeles Dodgers go into the final week of the National League season all even.

While Milwaukee was handing Marichal his third straight loss Sunday, 3-2, Drysdale won his fourth in a row and pitched the Dodgers to their ninth consecutive victory, 1-0 over St. Louis.

Drysdale fired a five-hitter at the Cardinals and made a first-inning run — produced on Maury Wills' base-running and Jim Gilliam's single — stand up. The hard-throwing right-hander, now 22-12, has accounted for one-third of the nine victories in the Dodgers' streak, which has lifted them from 4½ games back into a tie for first.

At San Francisco, Gene Oliver's bases-empty homer in the sixth inning gave the Braves a 3-0 lead and proved the clincher against Marichal, who's lost 13 and won 22.

The Giants, who zoomed to the top with a 14-game winning string, have dropped five of nine since — with Marichal losing three of them.

Each front-runner has seven games left — all at home — before the regular season closes next Sunday. The Giants open a three-game set against St. Louis today, then conclude with a four-game series against Cincinnati's third-place Reds. Los Angeles starts a three-game series against Cincinnati tonight, then plays four against Milwaukee.

The eventual winner of the NL scramble will face the Minnesota Twins in the World Series. Minnesota clinched its first American League pennant Sunday with a 2-1 decision over Washington.

In other NL action — Houston kept Cincinnati three games behind, trimming the Reds 4-2 on rookie Chuck Harrison's three-run homer with one out in the last of the ninth; Pittsburgh overcame the Chicago Cubs 5-3 on run-scoring doubles by Willie Stargell and Jim Pagliaroni in the 10th inning; and Tony Gonzalez' double in the 10th gave Philadelphia a 5-4 victory over the New York Mets.

Wills led off the Dodgers' first against Ray Sadecki with a bunt single. When the St. Louis left-hander attempted a pickoff, Wills stole second, and continued to third when Bill White's throw to second was wild. Gilliam followed with his single — and it was 1-0.

It still was 1-0 after Dick Groat flied to Lou Johnson for the final out. Drysdale, making his record 4-0 against the Cards this year, did not walk a man and allowed only three runners as far as second.

Singles by Frank Bolling in the second and Mack Jones in the third drove in Milwaukee runs against Marichal, then Oliver homered in the sixth.

Mele Has His Champagne

Happy Celebration After Twins Clinch First Flag

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The phone jangled persistently in the Minnesota Twins dressing room under D.C. Stadium.

"Get that, I'm busy," yelled a champagne-soaked Sam Mele.

"It's the vice president," said an aide.

So Mele went to the phone and accepted congratulations from Vice President Hubert Humphrey after the Twins had clinched their first American League pennant by edging Washington 2-1 Sunday for their 99th victory of the season.

"By gosh, it's great, Sam," said Humphrey, a former senator from Minnesota. "You've done a great job. Give my best wishes to all the players. I couldn't be happier."

Neither could the Twins. Ironically the Twins wrapped up the pennant in Washington, the city they left after the 1960 season for the Midwest.

And Zoilo Versalles, the sparkplug shortstop making a strong bid for Most Valuable Player honors, was the key as the Twins put it out of reach of their last challengers, the Baltimore Orioles.

Versalles tripled in the sixth inning and promptly scored on a passed ball by catcher Don Zimmer. Then, in the eighth, with the score tied 1-1, Frank Quilici doubled, took third on a wild pitch by Pete Richert and scored when Versalles drove a long fly to center field.

Some 15 minutes later Mele was being sprayed with champagne while talking about the World Series.

"I don't care who we face, we're ready for them," he said. "We've got pitching for them. We've got the ball club for them."

Then he ticked off his first three pitchers for the Series — Jim Grant, who became a 20-game winner Saturday, Camilo Pascual and Jim Kaat, who had the honor of pitching the pennant-clincher.

Kaat, bringing his record to 17-11, surrendered a run in the third inning on singles by Ken McMullen and Frank Howard and his own error, then shut the door the rest of the way. He seemed to get stronger as the game progressed, finishing with a flourish by striking out the last two men he faced, Dick Nen and Zimmer.

At Baltimore, the Twins' score was posted on the scoreboard, letting the Orioles know they had been eliminated. But they rallied for two runs in the bottom of the ninth inning and edged California 2-1 for the seventh straight victory.

Elsewhere in the AL, the Chicago White Sox defeated the New York Yankees 5-3, Kansas City edged Boston 2-1 and Cleveland and Detroit split, the Tigers winning the opener 2-0 and the Indians taking the nightcap 7-1.

George Brunet of the Angels and Dave McNally of the Orioles each had three-hit shutouts through seven innings, then California broke through for a run in the eighth on singles by Rick Reichardt and Paul Schaal and a sacrifice by Jimmy Piersall.

But the Orioles won it in the ninth against reliever Bob Lee on a walk and singles by Curt Blefary, Jerry Adair and Dick Brown.

Sure beats smoking!

Here's how to enjoy it most:

1. Take a small pinch of wintergreen flavored Skoal between your thumb and forefinger.

2. Place the Skoal between cheek and upper or lower gum.

3. Tuck it in comfortably with your tongue, and just leave it there. Skoal releases its rich tobacco pleasure slowly, without chewing. Every can is dated for freshness.

How can you know till you try it?

Bob Griese Demolishes Notre Dame

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Purdue Griese the skids for Notre Dame and now the Boilermakers hope their slick showing against the Irish can move them closer to the top of the college football pack.

In a brilliant passing show that Notre Dame Coach Ara Parseghian called "the finest performance I have ever seen," Purdue quarterback Bob Griese picked the No. 1-ranked Irish apart as the Boilermakers, ranked sixth, chalked up a 25-21 victory Saturday.

Griese completed 19 of 22

A's Close Home Season With Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Kansas City Athletics closed their home baseball season on a 2-1 victory over the Boston Red Sox, and the St. Louis Cardinals, out of the National League race, still figured in its finish Sunday.

St. Louis lost to Los Angeles, 1-0, moving the Dodgers into a first place tie with the San Francisco Giants, losers Sunday to the Milwaukee Braves, 3-2.

The Dodgers have swept two consecutive three-game sets from the Cardinals in a week. Four of the victories were shut-outs, and the Cards haven't scored a run off Dodger pitching in 21 innings.

Don Drysdale was the Los Angeles winner Sunday, and the winning Dodger run was unearned off loser Ray Sadecki. Maury Wills beat out a bunt in the first, stole second and went on to third when Bill White threw the ball away. Jim Gilliam then singled Wills in.

Drysdale, who is 4-0 against the Cardinals this season, did not walk a man and struck out four, bringing his total strikeouts to 202 this season.

Campy Campaneris doubled Jose Tartabull home in the seventh to break a 1-1 deadlock and win for the A's. Roland Sheldon scattered six hits for his 10th victory against 8 defeats. Dennis Bennett of the Sox was the loser.

Jack Aker helped Sheldon out, pitching the last two innings. He retired Boston in order in the eighth and gave up a pinch single in the ninth. Sheldon gave up the Red Sox run in the sixth on a ground out which allowed Tony Conigliaro in from third. He had walked to start the inning.

The Cardinals open a three-game series today in San Francisco, and still could have a hand in deciding their successors to the National League championship. Tracy Stallard (11-7) is slated to go against Warren Spahn (7-16) of the Giants.

The A's will have Fred Talbot (10-11) pitching at Baltimore to night against the Orioles, who have designated John Miller (6-4). passes for 283 yards and three touchdowns and rolled up 322 total yards.

Jack Mollenkopf, Purdue's coach, called Griese the best quarterback in the school's history. "Maybe Dale Samuels, Len Dawson and Bernie Allen were consistently better passers," Mollenkopf said, "but Griese is the toughest when the chips are down."

They were certainly down against Notre Dame. Griese almost became the goat when his fourth-period fumble was recovered by the Irish and led to a tie-breaking field goal. But the cool signal caller rallied the Boilermakers downfield and sent Gordon Teter over from the three for the winning score.

While the top-ranked Irish were being toppled by Purdue, Nebraska, No. 2 in the Associated Press poll, whipped the Air Force Academy 27-17.

Frank Solich scored three touchdowns for Nebraska and, with Griese, led a host of individual standouts.

Princeton's Charley Gogolak, son of a Hungarian refugee and brother of the Buffalo Bills' place-kicker, booted six soccer-style field goals as the Tigers walloped Rutgers 32-6.

Billy Stevens, Texas Western's sophomore quarterback who set two NCAA records in the opening game, hurled five more touchdown passes and ran his passing yardage to 797 for two games as the Miners routed New Mexico 35-14.

Brenden McCarthy, Boston College's fullback, carried 34 times for 168 yards in a 28-0 romp over Villanova. Harold Deters kicked a pair of 45-yard field goals, the second with just 35 seconds to go as North Carolina State toppled Wake Forest 13-11.

Larry Sieple, faking a punt on fourth down, dashed 70 yards for a touchdown that helped 10th-ranked Kentucky down Mississippi 16-7. Ashby Cook's passing led Mississippi State to an 18-13 upset of eighth-ranked Florida.

Fred Custardo hurled three touchdown passes helping Illinois rout Southern Methodist 42-0. Iowa's Gary Snook completed 13 passes and a stingy Hawkeye defense held Oregon State 27-7. Bob Biletnikoff threw two touchdown passes as Miami of Florida upset ninth-ranked Syracuse 24-0. "I've never seen

Baby Sitting Machine Drawing Attention

TURIN, Italy (AP)—A baby-sitting machine is drawing lots of attention at Turin's annual technology fair.

Put on show by an Italian household appliance manufacturer, it can be likened to a dishwasher or clothes washer. It is completely automatic and provides a complete bath in five minutes.

The baby is placed inside the cylinder-shaped machine. Then jets of warm water spray around him, followed by a sprinkling of just the right amount of soap and a rinse to wind it up.

our team look so bad," Orange Coach Ben Schwartzwalder moaned later.

If Nebraska wasn't ready to claim the top spot, there were no such refusals from Texas' Darrell Royal or Louisiana State's Charlie McClendon.

The third-ranked Longhorns made a shambles of Texas Tech 33-7 and No. 7 LSU rolled over Rice 42-14 as the fans chanted "We're No. 1."

Fourth-ranked Michigan, an overwhelming favorite against California, just got by the Golden Bears, 10-7. Arkansas extended the nation's longest winning streak to 14 with 20-12 triumph over Tulsa.

And poor little RPI lost its 40th in a row, 27-6 against Hobart.

Johnson Misses Grid Record

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Charley Johnson, who won't be a doctor until next June, did some fancy operating on the Cleveland Browns and now it's up to Blanton Collier to revive the patient.

Johnson is the St. Louis quarterback who is completing work on his Ph.D. in chemical engineering while he tries to pilot the Cardinals to the top of the National Football League's Eastern Division.

Sunday he pitched six touchdown passes — one short of the NFL single-game record — as the Cardinals rolled over Collier's Browns 49-13. The coach of the defending NFL champions was puzzled by his team's showing.

"It's hard to understand," Collier said later. "I'm upset about it and I don't have the answer to what happened."

Elsewhere in the NFL, last-minute heroics dominated.

New York nipped Philadelphia 16-14 on Andy Stynchula's field goal in the last 11 seconds. Green Bay topped Baltimore 20-17 on Zeke Bratkowski's scoring pass with less than three minutes remaining.

Los Angeles scored three touchdowns in the last period, the final one in the last 30 seconds, beating Chicago 30-28. Detroit shaded Minnesota 31-29 as Milt Plum beat the clock for the winning TD. San Francisco whacked Pittsburgh 27-17 and Dallas downed Washington 27-7.

Three of Johnson's touchdowns went to Sonny Randle with Bobby Joe Conrad, Willie Crenshaw and Bill Gambrell catching the others. Johnson worked only three periods and finished one short of the NFL record for TD passes in one game shared by Sid Luckman, Adrian Burk and Y.A. Tittle.

Over-all the Ph.D. to be completed 11 of 19 passes for 310 yards through the air.

Stynchula's third field goal of the game gave the Giants their first victory. New York was trailing 14-13 with 5½ minutes to go when Dick Lynch blocked an Eagle field goal attempt. Earl Morrall marched New York into Eagle territory and Stynchula's boot from the 11-yard line won it.

The Packers were behind Baltimore 17-13 with less than three minutes left when Willie Wood recovered a Lennie Moore fumble on the Colts' 37. Bratkowski, who took over when Bart Starr hurt his leg, hit Max McGee over the middle on the next play and the veteran end took it in for the winning TD.

Bill Munson climaxed Los Angeles' comeback, piloting the Rams 80 yards in the final 30 seconds for winning touchdown against Chicago.

Plum hit Amos Marsh on a 48-yard TD pass with 22 seconds left as the Lions stunned Minnesota. Detroit, trailing 29-24, got the ball on its own 25 with less than one minute to play after a Viking punt. Plum moved them upfield on sideline passes to Jim Gibbons and Terry Barr before hitting Marsh with the bomb that won it.

Olympic sprint champion Bob Hayes scored two touchdowns as Dallas took the Eastern Division lead by whipping Washington. He took a pass from Don Meredith going 45 yards for the first and then scored from the 11 later.

Several Shots Fired By Band of Youths

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP)—Several shots were fired by a band of armed youths at houses, cars and business places in the Rosedale district Saturday night, police said they were told. An investigation is under way. No injuries were reported.

Several residents of the area reported seeing a group of boys carrying shotguns and rifles riding in a car near some of the incidents.

Charles McCall said some boys shot at him as he drove through Rosedale, in the south bottoms of the Kansas River. The slug lodged in the body of his car, McCall said.

Some homeowners reported windows shattered by bullets. Several car owners said their windshields had been broken.

To Examine Mother Of Mystery Boy

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A Detroit mother undergoes psychiatric examination today after telling a judge she left her mentally retarded teen-age son at a Miami airport with three cents in his pocket and no identification.

Mrs. Victor Thorne flew to Miami late Sunday night after a nationwide search was started Wednesday, the day the mute boy was found at the airport.

Mrs. Thorne, wife of a businessman, was ordered admitted to Jackson Memorial Hospital for examination after a one-hour hearing before Dr. Ben Sheppard, chief juvenile court judge for Dade County.

Another hearing was set for today.

Mrs. Thorne told the judge she left her son, Richard, 13, at the airport in the hope that someone would find him and be interested in him. She said she could not find suitable help for the boy in the Detroit area.

Her son is being cared for at a private home under the jurisdiction of Dade County.

Richard has been unable to speak since he suffered brain damage from encephalitis and pneumonia when he was 18 months old.

His sister, Paula Willis of Troy, Mich., quoted Mrs. Thorne as saying she had left her son with a man in Miami, but she did not identify him.

Mrs. Willis said that her mother had planned to place Richard in a Southern school, where he could enjoy warm weather.

"I trust my parents to do the right thing," Mrs. Willis said. "There's no reason for them to do anything foolish."

She said her mother had been under emotional strain since deciding to send Richard to school in the South.

Mrs. Thorne, 44, was taken to the judge's office and the hospital by Barron F. Shields, juvenile court probation officer.

Relatives said Mrs. Thorne has a beautiful home on a hill overlooking the Detroit suburb of Troy. Her husband is the manager of a tool and die company. His whereabouts were not immediately known.

They said Mrs. Thorne cried a lot and hugged her son — who possibly couldn't understand why his mother was crying.

A doctor had told Mrs. Thorne her son's case was hopeless.
